Thanks very much Marlin,
A/Insp. Peter Siegenthaler of our Major Events and Emergency Management Section has confirmed that they have reached out to staff at the CRC as well as have the District Sergeant and the Duty Staff engaged.
Take care,
Chad

You bet....just got an update and it sounds like there are only about 3 people there at this point. We'll keep a close eye on this.

Thanks Marlin,
I have passed this onto the Duty Inspector and Operational Support Division. I also reached out to them after your call to inquire and get a status update on our response.
Take care,
Chad

Hi there

They are setting up physical structures on the property at present. I'm going to have them indicate that no physical structures shall be set up on property and they need to take them down as a starting point or they will be asked to move off the property.

Thanks,
Fiona

Hey Fiona,

Not trying to inflame things here, but they've now set up a toilet right in the parking lot beside my truck.

Hello there,
Yes, Lance Fader is the centre director there and I have looped him in on this.
Happy to connect as needed. The individual in custody that the protestors are gathering at the centre about, next attends court on February 16th, so it is anticipated there will be activity over the weekend and throughout the week.
Thanks very much.

Farooq,
See the note from Fiona in relation to the CRC. Can we get a bit more presence there this afterthought and evening? Thanks for this.
Fiona,
Maybe you can identify a contact there that Farooq or his team can reach into to pick the best times for this, say shift change. Etc.

Hi Marlin,
There are protests scheduled tonight at the Calgary Remand Centre, as well as over the weekend. Some individuals are already arriving there and that they are congregating on the property. The centre is going to be putting up more physical markers to denote that they should not cross, as well as have staff park and access the building via the back of the centre as opposed to the parking lot. Given that some of the presence has become more "overt" I am wondering if there is opportunity to have a bit more of a presence from the Sheriffs during this time (driving by, checking in). Let me know if you have time to discuss.
Thanks,
